Death I Miss You A

This non-religious introduction to death really helped us talk about what happened to grandpa when he passed away. There is a section in the book that addresses guilt (perhaps you wish you hadn't said something to this person, etc), which we just skip over when we read it - our 3-year olds have no concept of that kind of guilt yet and I feel that it introduces guilt where they honestly don't ...

If I could will my heart to stop and breathe a final breath I'd sit beneath an old oak tree and trade my life for death
The pain in life of losing you is more than I can bear how can a man be happy when his better half's not there Life's meaning's gone when I lost you no ...

You're forever in my heart. Death always seems so sudden, And it is always sure,
But what is oft' forgotten It is not without a cure. There may be times you miss me,
I sort of hope you do, But smile when you think of me, For I'll be waiting for you.
Now there's many things for you to, And lots of ways to grow,
